searching the OzEMedicine wiki

- find documents either via:
 - search function at top right
 - use the full word or words
 - if document page names contain the search term, these pages will be displayed preferentially
 - Index button above it to list all documents in this wiki.
 - drilling down through the main headers on the home page
 - remember, you can re-trace your steps by clicking on the trace item in the header above, or get back to this page by clicking on Homepage.

searching the OzEMedicine blog

- there is a search area on the Archive section on the right side of the blog

use customised medical Google search engine

- EM Google Search - only searches medical sites authorised by the creator thereby minimising poor quality search results - but this is extensive and includes OzEMedicine
- the following search engine does NOT search within Ozemedicine wiki, but does priority search in websites linked from this wiki via Google, and thus tends to give priority to wikipedia.org, emedicine.com and Australian medical content.
- you can also re-run the Google search as per normal Google by choosing “web search” instead of “Ozemedicine search”.
